WHY CAMP WELL?

Jenn Jett Barrett kept hearing the same thing from women leaders: "I am sitting in the tension of feeling too much and not enough." This lie is constantly threatening to change the way women see themselves, leaving them weary and wandering. This identity crisis is keeping leaders from walking confidently in their God-given assignment, leading to burn out as they strive to do and to be out of their own strength.

Camp Well is six month experience and in person gathering created for 40 women to:

- ▶ UNPACK the things holding them back from peace & freedom
- ▶ REPACK what is true about who God is and who He says they are
- ▶ TRAVEL the road God has paved in obedience and with community

We know that your heart and desire is to love and care for your leaders and staff.
We also know how overwhelming and demanding that responsibility can be.

Our mission is to come alongside and provide a space to do just that : love and care for them WELL.

at Camp Well, campers will ...

- ▶ Unpack what is holding them back from peace and flourishing in Christ.
- ▶ Repack who God is and who He says they are.
- ▶ Experience breakthrough in the places they feel stuck and weary.
- ▶ Space to dream and establish clarity in the work that they are doing.
- ▶ Reap the mental, emotional & physical benefits of spending time away and with fellow leaders.
- ▶ Feel seen, understood, celebrated and encouraged the way God intends for us to experience.
- ▶ Learn the importance & value of a community of dream defenders that will become a support system.
- ▶ Coaching & group mentoring with seasoned ministry leaders and counselors.

what is at stake for the Kingdom of God if our identity is in crisis and not in Christ?
